Appendix A. Financial Negotiations - Breakdown of Remuneration Rates

1. Review of Remuneration Rates

- 1.1. The remuneration rates are made up of salary or a base fee, social costs, overheads, profit, and any premium or allowance that may be paid for assignments away from headquarters or a home office. An attached Sample Form can be used to provide a breakdown of rates.
- 1.2. If the RFP requests submission of a technical proposal only, the Sample Form is used by the selected Consultant to prepare for the negotiations of the Contract. If the RFP requests submission of the financial proposal, the Sample Form shall be completed and attached to the Financial Form-3. Agreed (at the negotiations) breakdown sheets shall form part of the negotiated Contract and included in its Appendix D or C.
- 1.3. At the negotiations the firm shall be prepared to disclose its audited financial statements for the last three years, to substantiate its rates, and accept that its proposed rates and other financial matters are subject to scrutiny. The Client is charged with the custody of government funds and is expected to exercise prudence in the expenditure of these funds.
- 1.4. Rate details are discussed below:
  - (i) Salary is the gross regular cash salary or fee paid to the individual in the firm's home office. It shall not contain any premium for work away from headquarters or bonus (except where these are included by law or government regulations).
  - (ii) Bonuses are normally paid out of profits. To avoid double counting, any bonuses shall not normally be included in the "Salary" and should be shown separately. Where the Consultant's accounting system is such that the percentages of social costs and overheads are based on total revenue, including bonuses, those percentages shall be adjusted downward accordingly. Where national policy requires that 13 months' pay be given for 12 months' work, the profit element need not be adjusted downward. Any discussions on bonuses shall be supported by audited documentation, which shall be treated as confidential.
  - (iii) Social Charges are the costs of non-monetary benefits and may include, inter alia, social security (including pension, medical, and life insurance costs) and the cost of a paid sick and/or annual leave. In this regard, a paid leave during public holidays or an annual leave taken during an assignment if no Expert's replacement has been provided is not considered social charges.
  - (iv) Cost of Leave. The principles of calculating the cost of total days leave per annum as a percentage of basic salary is normally calculated as follows:

$$\text{Leave cost as percentage of salary} = \frac{\text{total days leave} \times 100}{[365 - w - \text{ph} - v - s]}$$

Where w = weekends, ph = public holidays, v = vacation, and s = sick leave.

Please note that leave can be considered as a social cost only if the Client is not charged for the leave taken.

- (v) Overheads are the Consultant's business costs that are not directly related to the execution of the assignment and shall not be reimbursed as separate items under the Contract. Typical items are home office costs (non-billable time, time of senior Consultant's staff monitoring the project, rent of headquarters' office, support staff, research, staff training, marketing, etc.), the cost of Consultant's personnel not currently employed on revenue-earning projects, taxes on business activities, and business promotion costs. During negotiations, audited financial statements, certified as correct by an independent auditor and supporting the last three years' overheads, shall be available for discussion, together with detailed lists of items making up the overheads and the percentage by which each relates to basic salary. The Client does not accept an add-on margin for social charges, overhead expenses, etc. for Experts who are not permanent employees of the Consultant. In such case, the Consultant shall be entitled only to administrative costs and a fee on the monthly payments charged for sub-contracted Experts.
- (vi) Profit is normally based on the sum of the Salary, Social costs, and Overheads. If any bonuses paid on a regular basis are listed, a corresponding reduction shall be made in the profit amount. Profit shall not be allowed on travel or any other reimbursable expenses.
- (vii) Away from Home Office Allowance or Premium or Subsistence Allowances. Some Consultants pay allowances to Experts working away from headquarters or outside of the home office. Such allowances are calculated as a percentage of salary (or a fee) and shall not draw overheads or profit. Sometimes, by law, such allowances may draw social costs. In this case, the amount of this social cost shall still be shown under social costs, with the net allowance shown separately.

UNDP standard rates for the particular country may be used as reference to determine subsistence allowances.

Section 7. Terms of Reference for

Preparation of the Integrated Master Plan for Ramsar sites management within Protected Areas of Nepal

1. BACKGROUND

Introduction

Wetlands cover about 6% of the earth's terrestrial area and are important ecosystem providing various services to human being. Despite their rich biodiversity, socio-economic and culture values, wetlands are under immense pressure due to anthropogenic forces and climate change. A global estimate shows 64-71% decline in 20th centuries and continues decline of wetland resources, significantly impacting on supply of ecosystem services to human population (Ramsar Secretariat, 2015). In Asia alone, 5000 square km of wetland vanish each year, also negatively impacting on hydrological phenomenon.

Nepal, though a landlocked country, is rich in wetlands and wetland resources. An estimate shows that wetlands cover 819277 ha of land, which is 5.6% of the total land area of the country (GoN, 2014). As a conference of parties to Ramsar convention, Nepal committed to safeguard her wetland resources and declared 10 Ramsar sites, covering 60,561 ha of land, of global importance. Out of 10 declared wetlands of global importance under Ramsar sites, five sites are located within protected areas.

Nepal's Wetland policy and national biodiversity strategy and action plan (NBSAP) emphasized the need on conservation and wise use of wetlands and wetland resources. The National Wetland Policy 2003, and its revisions 2012 envisages the institutional mechanism to manage these important wetlands. The site specific management plans are in place, however, an integrated long term perspectives plan for wetlands within protected area is lacking. This assignment aims to develop an integrated long term perspective plan for Ramsar sites within the protected areas in line with National Parks and Wildlife Conservation Act and Regulation, within broader framework of National Wetland policy of Nepal.

Wetland Management Plan of Ramsar sites

Management Plan of first Ramsar site, the Ghodaghodi Lake, has been implemented (2013-2017). A detailed management for Lake Cluster of Pokhara Valley has been prepared and under approval process. Management plan for Koshi Tappi Wildlife Reserve which include an important segment on wetland management is on process of approval. Similarly site specific management activities for Gosaikunda wetland have been proposed as part of draft management plan of Langtang National Park. However, a long term integrated management plan of Ramsar sites within protected areas of Nepal has not been initiated yet. There is a need of a comprehensive and coherent integrated management plan of Ramsar sites within protected areas. This assignment aims to develop such long term perspective and integrated management plan for Ramsar sites within protected areas.

The Department of National Parks and Wildlife Conservation, therefore, intends to develop long term perspective and integrated management plan (2020-2040) with a common and shared vision on promoting wise use of wetland and wetland resources. This assignment will cover below four Ramsar sites with below six priority areas.

Ramsar sites within protected area (the perspective plan should cover all below sites):

1. Gokyo and associated lakes of Sagarmatha National Park and its Buffer Zone : Gokyo and associated Lakes are oligotrophic lakes are located at an altitude of 4,700–5,000 m (15,400–16,400 ft) above sea level within Sagarmatha National Park. . These lakes are the world's highest freshwater lake system comprising six main lakes, of which Thonak Lake is the largest.<sup>[2]</sup> Gokyo and associated wetlands of 7,770 ha (30.0 sq mi) have been designated a in September 2007.

2. Wetland management plan of Koshitappu Wildlife Reserve: Koshi Tappu lies between the coordinates of 26° 56' -26° 40' and 85° 56'-87° 04' in the floodplains of the Koshi river. It covers an area of 348 sq.km, including the buffer zone of 173 sq.km. It was designated as a Wildlife Reserve in 1976. The Koshi Tappu wetland is considered of international significance and was added to the Ramsar list of wetlands of global importance on December 17, 1987. The Koshi Tappu Wildlife Reserve safeguards the pristine riparian wetlands, cattail fields, mudflats, grasslands, forests, marshes and swamps, lakes and ponds, and excavated ponds.

3. Gosaikunda and associated lake of Langtang National Park: Gosainkunda is an alpine lake (Oligotrophic lake) in Nepal's Langtang National Park which is located in an altitude of 4380m in rasuwa district. It has a surface of 34 acres where different lake is associated together where its complex size is 4.0 sq. m. It was also designated as Ramsar site on 29 September 2007. In winter, month of October to June the lake melts down and form a Trishuli River which gets frozen for 6 months. There are 108 lakes in this area which are small to medium sizes.

4. Phoksundo lake of Shey-Phokshundo National Park: The Phoksundo Wetland Series lie into the shey phoksundo national park, is a y-shaped alpine fresh water oligotrophic lake, 5.15 km in length and 800m in breadth. The water volume is 409 million m<sup>3</sup> , and discharge is 3.715 m<sup>3</sup> /sec. The Lake drains into Phoksundo River in the south, serving as a freshwater source for the people in the downstream settlements. Sources include several streams including the Sagar, Phoksundo, Chisa, Baulaha, Dekhutaichu, Jagatilumba, and Chollapu.

5. Rara Lake, Rara National Park. The management plan of Rara Lake is presently ongoing. This management plan can be taken as reference for long term perspective plan for Ramsar sites within protected areas of Nepal.

6. Bishhazari Lake : Management plan of Bishahajari Lake within buffer zone area of Chitwan national park is already completed. The perspective plan should consider the available management plan of the Lake.
